

fights gastric cancer

CAREN helps save lives by powering interactive remote training of Central Asian endoscopists on novel techniques for early gastric cancer diagnosis and treatment

CAREN sets out to create a regional high-capacity Internet network for researchers, academics and students across Central Asia in partnership with the national research and education networks (NRENs).