

taps Central Asia's Water Tower

Hydro-meteorological monitoring data collated via satellite at GFZ in Germany is transmitted over the GÉANT and CAREN networks to a central database at CAIAG in Kyrgyzstan, accessible to scientists and state agencies for sustainable water management

CAREN sets out to create a regional high-capacity Internet network for researchers, academics and students across Central Asia in partnership with the national research and education networks (NRENs).