

safeguards World Heritage

CAREN helps protect precious World Heritage sites along the ancient Silk Road by enabling video links between archaeologists and historians, and by supporting UNESCO's plans for a virtual museum and remote site monitoring

CAREN sets out to create a regional high-capacity internet network for researchers, academics and students across Central Asia in partnership with the national research and education networks (NRENs).